

RED LINE IS THE CUT LINE

The diagram illustrates the layout for a 6x18 inch finished size with a 0.125 inch bleed. It features a red line representing the cut line and a blue line representing the safety line. Arrows indicate the dimensions and the placement of these lines. The text explains that the red line is where the finished product will be cut, and the blue line is the safety line, meaning anything not getting cut must be inside this blue line.
