

The diagram shows a 3-fold brochure layout. It consists of three vertical panels. The left panel is a single sheet. The middle panel is a double sheet folded in half. The right panel is a single sheet. A horizontal blue line runs across all three panels, representing the safety line. A horizontal red line runs across the middle panel, representing the cut line. Two vertical green lines are located in the middle panel, representing fold lines. Arrows point from the text labels to their respective lines. The background of the panels is light gray with a large, faint, stylized letter 'M' watermark.
